The Drop shipping industry background

The global drop shipping market size was valued at USD 102.2 billion in 2018 and is expected to register a CAGR of 28.8% from 2019 to 2025.

The market is anticipated to witness significant growth owing to an increase in preference for online shopping, coupled with the rising trend of cross-border e-commerce trade.

Hence, the rise in demand for drop shipping services is predominantly influenced by the growth of the e-commerce industry.

Drop shipping involves selling of products through online stores where the retailers do not keep a stock of goods.

The retailer transfers the customer orders and shipment details to either the manufacturer or wholesaler, who then ships the goods directly to the customer.

Main competitor summary - Shopify

In April, Shopify launched Shop, an all-in-one mobile shopping assistant, which helps merchants deepen their relationships with existing buyers by putting a rediscovery tool at buyers' fingertips. Shop also gives shoppers access to a range of features to create a more intuitive online shopping experience that merchants would otherwise have to assemble themselves. Shop includes our accelerated checkout, Shop Pay; our buy-now-pay-later product, Shop Pay Installments; order tracking; and carbon offsets of delivery emissions. Buyers can also discover local shops, Black-owned businesses, and other curated merchant lists within the app. At the end of 2020, Shop had more than 100 million registered users, including buyers that have opted into Shop Pay as well as users of the app, and at the start of 2021 had more than 19 million Monthly Active Users. By the end of 2020, Shop Pay had facilitated nearly $20 billion in cumulative GMV since its launch in 2017.

2020 was a year of discovery of new merchants, as the number of consumers buying from Shopify merchants grew 52% from 2019 to nearly 457 million, an acceleration from the 38% year-over-year growth in consumers buying from Shopify merchants in 2019. Shopify helped merchants capitalize on this shift to online by expanding buyer discovery and selling opportunities, introducing several new sales and marketing channels, including Facebook Shops, Walmart, and Pinterest sales channels and the TikTok marketing channel.

The DSN plan is to mimic several key elements of the Shopify platform but change the way they make their money. DSN aims to have no charges from its users and only capitalize on percentages of their success, thus giving a better head start for the drop shippers with full financial backing.

DSN TOKEN-TOKEN ECONOMICS

The key thing about DSN is that it runs a smart code that takes 10% of any buy or sell transaction and transfers 5% to the LP, and the 5% is distributed proportionally among all investors, meaning the more you hold, the more passive income you get.

This means that our clients will receive passive profits in addition to constant capital growth.

Auto lock liquidity

5% of each transaction is locked to liquidity and burned. This will subject the owner of the coin to be less in volatility and continue to increase the value of the coin.

Liquid lock

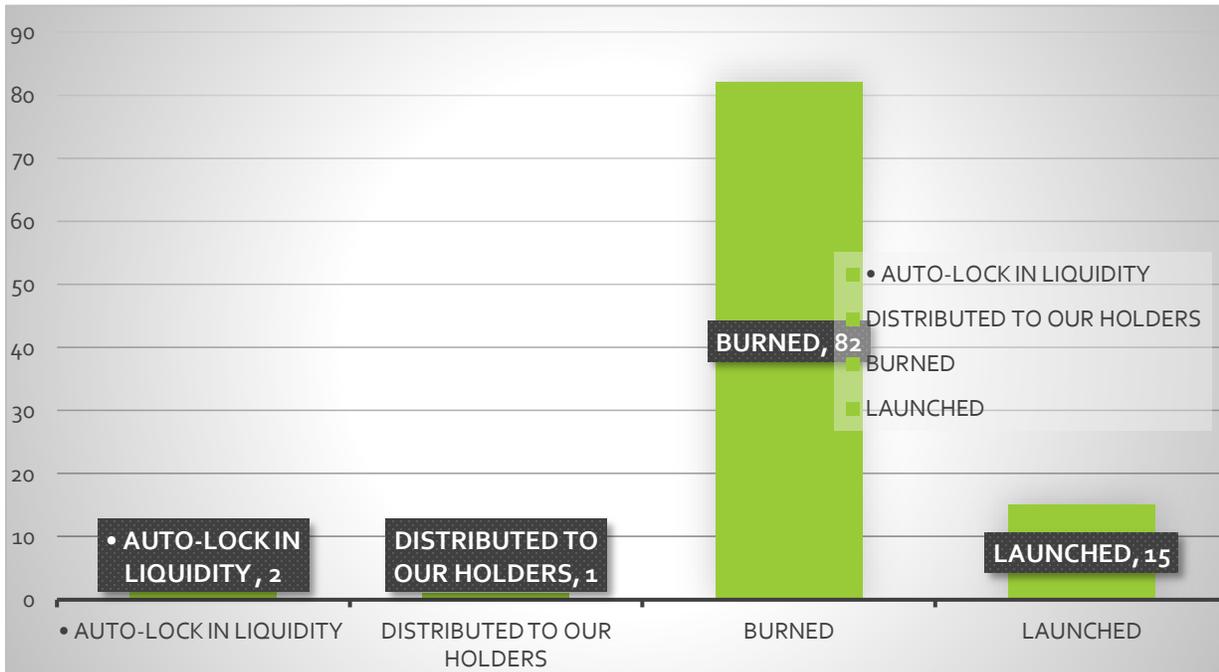

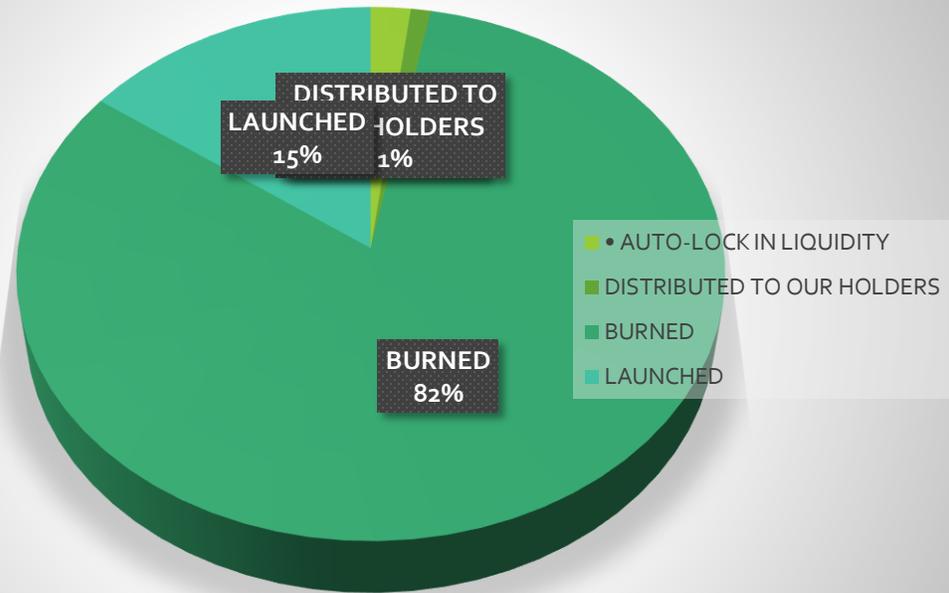

Our token is already locked which gives our investor 100% guaranteed safety.

Auto distribution

5% of each transaction is shared across all investors. This will ensure that our investors hold as longer as possible.

CONCLUSION

As this project explains, the growth of the drop shipping market is exponential percentages on a yearly basis, if we take 2019 for example drop shipping had more than 2 billion dollars income and it is only growing from there. The Drop Shipping Network is basing the DSN token's growth on the drop shipping market. As the network plans to launch the drop shipping platform later this year and provide thousands of drop shippers from all over the world and from all ages the ability to use the DSN token in order to exchange goods and pay for third party suppliers from logo design to item shipping and even to bulk orders from factories. The tokens growth is expected to be over 500% on a linear quarter and once the platform is fully deployed, we are estimating over 1.2$ value.
